FINANCIAL REFORM IS A PARTY QUESTION

The Democratic speakers and papers are all saying that the financial question is not a party question, yet they all admit that it is the greatest question before the American people. If the greatest question before the American people is not a party question, pray then what is the use of parties? Are parties simply to exist to fight over minor "partisan" details, and to ignore or to decide on the questions that are of the greatest concern to the country—the questions that affect every man's pocket and the welfare of his family? Shall the national Democratic and Republican parties live simply to fight and quarrel over who shall hand out your mail at the postoffice and who the red-legged grasshopper brigade, while each is divided and agrees to do nothing for the people on the great money question?

Dear reader if you are in a party that can't make finance a party question, then the sooner you get into a party that has the manhood and honesty to tackle and take up as a party question, the size of your pocketbook, the better it will be for you and yours.

The People's party may divide on other questions, but it never divides on the great question of questions, the great issue of issues, Every vote of the People's party in both the House and the Senate has every time been cast solidly against the crushing gold trust, against the infamous national banking system and in favor of more money and honest money, in favor of every dollar whether of gold, silver or paper, standing on its own bottom so that every citizen can stand on his own bottom, so that every man who will work can enjoy the fruits of his labors according to his talents; every vote has been cast for more money and less taxes. If the Democrats were to make this great question a party issue, it could get no more campaign funds from the trusts and bondholders. It is divided on this question and never will give you relief. The People's party is united, it will make money a party question on every stump. Put the party in power and it will put more money in circulation.

AN IMPORTANT ISSUE

This issue of THE CAUCASIAN contains some important matter. File it away to be read again as you would a good book. Senator Jones is recognized in the United States Senate and over the world as the very highest authority on finance. He has no superior in ability. At the International Bi-metallic Conference in Brussels, in 1892, he was the leading figure. His exposure of goldbugism was unanswerable. He has joined the People's party. He says there is no hope for financial reform in either of the old parties. We publish his reasons for going to the People's party in this issue. It is a good campaign document.

Also see the test which the American Silver League lays down for the friends of silver. If your opponent on the stump says that he is a friend to silver, ask him to sign that silver pledge. If he refuses you may know that he will serve the gold bugs if his party caucus tells him to.

We will print some extra copies this week and will furnish 20 copies for 25 cents.

The next issue of THE CAUCASIAN will also contain some very interesting and important matter. Get up clubs this week. The next issue and every one till the election will be a vote maker.

The machine having (in the language of Mr. Palaski Cowper) "made" Judge Connor bow down before it and humiliate himself before the whole people of the State, have now determined to "make" Judge Clark do the same thing. We will await the result with interest as the unscrupulous and intolerant machine lays its lash upon him. No man who favors lifting the judiciary out of partisan politics will vote for any man who will say that he will not serve a majority of the citizens of the State on the Supreme Court bench except with the permission of a party machine. We did not believe that Judge Connor could be "made" to take such a position, and we do not now believe that Judge Clark can be "made" to follow the same humiliating course.

"Pops and Pops" is the way the News and Observer refers to the Populists and the Republicans. Low indeed is the cause of the Democratic machine when it is forced to use epithets like the above in the stead of arguments.

THIS "ON RUSHING TIDE OF PROSPERITY"

Two years ago the Democrats recklessly declared that cotton would go up in price and everything begin to boom as soon as Cleveland was elected. They had the cheek to make the same prediction when the Sherman law was repealed. They have got the unparalleled cheek to now predict good times again since the passage of the sugar tariff bill, the issue of bonds and the striking down of silver. Yes, the Democrats have done just the thing to bring prosperity. The Charlotte Observer in fear about trying to fool the people so many times within a few months grows excited and declares that there is now "an onrushing tide of prosperity." Senator Jarvis was a little more discreet. He told the people here last week that prosperity would begin this fall right after the election.

TWO GOOD CLUBS

"There is a saying that if a man took you once it is his fault; if he took you twice it is yours,"—Charlotte Observer.

Yes, the Democratic party promised many great things and only asked for a chance to do it. They fooled the people. They are now asking for another chance. If they fool the people again it will be the people's fault. The Democrats are furnishing good clubs these days to beat their own brains out with. Only the other day the News and Observer said inadvertently:

"Honest men can have nothing but contempt for men whose actions belie their words."

Every action of the Democratic party when it got in power belied its promises on the stump and this explains the contempt which so many honest men now have for the party.

ST. PAUL WAS A POPULIST

Marion Butler says that St. Paul was a Christian politician. But St. Paul was not a Populist.—News & Observer.

St. Paul was a Populist. He was not born a Populist but he was converted to the faith after having been a great sinner. He was born an aristocrat, he was raised among the bourgeois, dominating intolerant democracy that ruled the country and oppressed the people. He persecuted, abused and ridiculed Christ, the reformer. But at last his eyes opened. Then he took up the cause of justice and humanity. The machine then denounced him, they called him a "turn coat." But he stood true to conviction and principle. Then he became a Populist.

The Sampson Democrat like the Goldsboro Argus and other little papers of about the same calibre, have been censuring Senator Jarvis for telling the truth on Grover Cleveland and the gold bug administration. They say that he ought not to tell the truth on his own party for the People's party will tell too much without his help. We wish to commend Mr. Jarvis for as much truth as he has told, but in as much as he conceded a part of the truth, it is natural to believe that he was influenced by selfish motive. He knew that the office holders, especially the red-legged grasshoppers who are fed at the public crib are for Ransom and Cleveland. He knew that this class of men as a rule care nothing about whether we have good or bad government so they can get an office and pocket some of the people's taxes in the shape of a salary. Therefore Mr. Jarvis panders to the other element of his party. But the fact is, Jarvis envies Ransom, and would like to be the pet of Cleveland and the boss of the State machine himself.

The Democratic machine censured Judge Connor, a free citizen, for having any correspondence with the Chairman of the Executive Committee of the People's party. So when Judge Connor at last decided that the Chairman of the Ex. Com. of the People's party did not correctly understand his letter, he writes to another man to tell him about it. The machine demanded not only that Judge Connor should say that he would not serve a majority of the people of the State, but also that he should ignore the Chairman of the People's party Ex. Com.

Senator Jarvis in his speech in Goldsboro promised the people that there would be great reduction soon in clothing and dry goods. He said it would be Jan. 1st, 1895, however, before these things would be cheap and advised the people not to buy till then. A man in the audience wanted to know why sugar did not wait till Jan. 1st to go up. The Senator did not explain this. It is the general belief that the Senator is very ignorant or else he is trying to fool the people into voting the Democratic ticket again.

A great offer! 8 copies of THE CAUCASIAN till after the election for only $1.00. Every old subscriber must renew at the regular price.

Caller—I had to wait a long while for my turn to get in to see you.

Busy Man—Well, I will equalize matters by letting you out immediately.

The tobacco crop in the western part of the State is reported to be light.

ANOTHER MISERABLE LIE NAILED

The Way that "Black-and-tan Butler took to His Heels."

As stated in last week's CAUCASIAN Senator Jarvis declined to meet the editor of THE CAUCASIAN in a joint discussion at Goldsboro. Nothing daunts the cheek and nerve of the machine Democrat. They charged in the reports in next week's paper that Mr. Butler would not meet Senator Jarvis. We give below a statement of the facts made by Mr. W. G. H. Howell, the chairman of the People's party executive committee of Wayne. The following was published by Mr. Howell in his paper, the Wayne County Spectator:

"We have just seen the News and Observer of Sept. 11th. In it the Goldsboro correspondent does some straight out lying, and he does it in his headlines. Here is the exact language used: 'Jarvis at Goldsboro.' The Senator at his best. Black-and-tan Butler took to his heels."

"Now, let's see what the facts are. When we learned that Senator Jarvis was to be at Goldsboro, we telegraphed Mr. Butler, who was at Edenton, to know if he would reply to the Senator, if allowed to do so. When we saw Mr. Monroe, a leading Democrat, and asked him who we had best see in order to arrange for a joint discussion and he thought Mr. Poy was the man, as he had placed Mr. Jarvis. So we at once telegraphed Mr. Poy to know if we could arrange for a division of time, and received this answer: 'Senator Jarvis must not be limited Monday. No objection to Mr. Butler speaking after Senator Jarvis finishes. Mr. Butler can hereafter arrange for joint debate as he shall desire it.' But before receiving this telegram we requested Mr. Henry Butler, who is with THE CAUCASIAN and managing editor in Mr. Butler's absence, to give notice that there would be a joint discussion if agreeable to the Democratic Executive Committee, which he did, and it had the effect of swelling the Senator's audience from a few hundred to eight or twelve hundred as the correspondent estimates the crowd to have been."

"After seeing Mr. Poy's position we saw Mr. Joe Robinson and asked that he use his efforts to secure a joint discussion, which he declined to do, saying it was the Democrats' appointment. We then saw Mr. O. Barry, the Chairman of the Executive Committee, who informed us that he had urged Mr. Poy in a twenty-five line telegram to allow a joint discussion but that in a letter received the next day from Mr. Poy, he declined to divide with Mr. Butler. We, not to be outdone, went to the Senator in person and asked for an equitable division; his answer was, 'I have a speech that I want to deliver, and I do not know how long it will take me,' and he did not wish to limit himself. That he had no objections to Mr. Butler speaking after he finished."

"This is a true statement of facts. Mr. Butler was ready to reply and would have done so had he been accorded an equitable division of time. And yet this correspondent, whom we think we know, had so little regard for the truth as to assert that Mr. Butler took to his heels. 'We will further state that it was said by Democrats (whether they knew better or not, we do not know) as they passed down the public square, 'come on, Butler is to speak,' and by such notice Mr. Jarvis secured a good crowd, that he would not have otherwise gotten.'"

We challenge Mr. Jarvis or any Democrat to deny a single statement of the above. In justice to Mr. Hardy, the travelling representative of the News & Observer, we will say that he called the next day at THE CAUCASIAN office and apologized for the head lines in the News and Observer. He said he would write to that paper at once and have the false charge corrected. It has been a week and three days since then and the News and Observer has not yet made the correction. Can any honest, decent man have any respect for a paper and believe anything that appears in it, when it thus brazenly publishes a malicious falsehood and refuses to make a correction when asked to do so by its own correspondent who knows the facts? In this connection we wish to call attention to a special that recently appeared in the Wilmington Messenger from Fayetteville, saying that Maj. Wm. A. Guthrie refused to divide time with Mr. Shaw. The man who sent that special knew it was false when he sent it. We have in our possession the correspondence about the matter between Maj. Guthrie and chairman of the Democratic Ex. Com. of Cumberland county and can publish it if necessary. Maj. Guthrie was invited to speak before a convention which was in session in Fayetteville when there was not time for a joint discussion, but he offered to stay over in Fayetteville another whole day to meet Mr. Shaw, if he so desired. Mr. Shaw declined saying that he could not be in Fayetteville the next day. These are the facts.

Mr. N. M. Merchant, a prominent citizen of Maitland, Ga., in a card stating why he leaves the Democratic party and joins the People's party says:

"An honest confession compels me to say that I owe no allegiance to a party that has proven false to every promise, traitor to every pledge, and base to every trust reposed in it; therefore I feel free to cast my vote where conscience may dictate and judgment direct."

Intelligent people, who realize the important part the blood holds in keeping the body in a normal condition, find nothing strange in the number of diseases Hood's Sarsaparilla is able to cure. So many troubles result from impure blood, the best way to treat them is through the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes the blood.

The People's party is growing rapidly in this county as was shown by the immense crowd present at our convention. The court house was filled to its utmost capacity. Yet all business before the convention was transacted in harmony and perfect order.

W. O. Ellis, Sec.

DURHAM CO.

Much enthusiasm was manifested, and perfect order throughout the convention. The following ticket was nominated:
Legislature, W. G. Vickers, Clerk, Superior Court, W. J. Christian; treasurer, T. J. Holloway; Sheriff, John B. Rigbee; Coroner, Dr. Y. E. Young; Surveyor, A. M. Leathers.

MECKLENBURG COUNTY

The Populists turned out well, the convention being an exceptionally large one. They were full of enthusiasm and very hopeful of success. The ticket is considered a very strong one.

Who are the Friends of Silver?

al friend to silver. It means nothing less than that a candidate, of either the republican or democratic party must take a pledge to remain out of the caucus, in the election of speaker and the organization of the House, and the election of President in '96, in the event that the election will go to the House of Representatives. The Bi-metallic League at its annual convention at Des Moines meeting March 21st and 22nd, 1894, reaffirmed the declaration adopted at its previous meeting, and added two more resolutions as follows:
First. That as the doctrine here in set forth has been made a card-principle in all the platforms of the People's party that wherever this party is strong enough, independent, to elect members of Congress, it should put forth every effort to do so.

Second. In all republican and democratic districts, the people are urged to nominate, and vote for, only free coinage candidates for Congress, or for members of the legislatures of their respective States, and to require all candidates, both in nominating conventions and in their canvases before the people, to pledge unwavering devotion to the cause of free coinage of both gold and silver as herein recommended, and to vote for no other candidates.

From this it will be seen that the convention at Des Moines went one step farther, and declared in the first resolution that it is not necessary for a candidate of the People's party to take any pledge whatever, as the League is perfectly willing to trust the representatives of that party on the silver question without any pledge.

The second resolution implies that no republican or democratic candidate for Congress or State Legislature, can be trusted unless he will sign the pledge adopted at the silver conference December 15th and 16th, 1893. Thus we have a plain declaration of the Bi-metallic League, what it defines as a true friend to bi-metalism.

Countless hundreds of democrats and republicans in the South and West will claim from every stump, that they are as loyal to silver as the People's party, but the declaration of the Bi-metallic League says: "Unless they are willing to subscribe to this pledge they are not." The Bi-metallic League at its recent meeting held in Washington, D. C., August 16th and 17th, 1894, reaffirmed the declarations of the two previous meetings. Therefore it is very important that the Populists on the stump and through the press, should define the position of the Bi-metallic League on the silver question. The People's party is perfectly willing to accept the definition of the League, and will honestly execute the same. One hundred per cent. of the representatives elected by the People's party have always stood by and voted for the free coinage of silver at the rate of 16 to 1, and will in the future. While the republican and democratic parties in almost every state convention, equivocated in regard to the ratio, and used the word party. Any party or candidate that will use the word party is not a true friend to silver, and cannot be trusted.

Politically, silver has but one friend in the world, and that is the People's party, regardless what the republican and democratic press and speakers may say.

The Populist Outlook from a Democratic Point of View.

The Populists of the second (III) congressional district made a tentative move by nominating John Z. White for congress. He is an advanced reformer, and when elected, as he will be, will take a leading place among the independent element in the House of Representatives. It is entirely probable that the Third party representatives in that body will have such strength as to make them an important factor in legislation. The Times hopes to see the congressional representatives of the People's party maintain the high standard set in the Fifty-third congress by Messrs. Simpson, Pence, McKeighan, and other Populists. Certainly Mr. White will contribute to this end.

While the Times is not specifically a partisan Populist newspaper any more than it is a partisan Democratic organ, it regards the growing strength of the Third party with nothing but satisfaction. A strong Populist minority, or, indeed, a Third party majority, in the state legislature or the national congress would be a good thing for the cause of industrial progress. The Democratic party, in theory the party of the people, has come under the domination of its Eastern element, which is too closely allied with the money power to be capable of just and intelligent legislative action. In the present congress Eastern Democrats no less than Eastern Republicans have played the parts of legislative agents of monopoly.

The administration, nominally Democratic, has been in effect wholly destitute of true Democratic principles as an administration headed by Wm. K. Vanderbilt would be. Plutocracy has fastened its hold upon the national Democratic organization and defeat will be wholesome to the party and advantageous to the country whenever such defeat does not mean the triumph of the still more plutocratic Republicans.
For these reasons the Times rejoices in the growing strength of the Third party movement, and hopes to see that party well represented in congress and in the state legislatures.—Chicago Times, (Dem.)
